REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art teaches related CAM devices but fails to teach the combination including the limitation of:

(Claim 1) "... CAM logic that is configured to pass an instruction received at an instruction input port to an instruction output port without inspection or alteration so that the CAM device may be operated within a cascaded chain of CAM devices that collectively form multiple databases within a lookup engine";

(Claim 4) "... a cascaded chain of CAM devices that is configured to support passing of instructions down the cascaded chain without inspection or alteration using a distributed control architecture";

(Claim 9) "... an instruction output port that is configured to reproduce the instruction without inspection or alteration on a second instruction cascade interface bus, in-sync with a second clock signal generated internal to the CAM device";

(Claim 13) "... performing a learn operation in the cascaded chain of CAM devices by passing a learn instruction through a plurality of CAM devices in the cascaded chain, without inspection or alteration, using a distributed control architecture that offsets timing of learn operations within each of the plurality of CAM devices";

(Claim 21) "... writing a search key associated with a database into a selected one of the cascaded chain of CAM devices, in response to evaluating whether an NFA table in the selected one of the cascaded chain of CAM devices has a valid NFA address for the search key; and searching each of the CAM devices in the cascaded chain to identify an address of a highest priority invalid entry in a CAM device that retains the at least a portion of the database”;

(Claim 22) “... CAM logic that is configured to pass a learn instruction received at an instruction input port to an instruction output pod without inspection or alteration and with at least one cycle of latency”.

Claims 2, 3, 5-8, 10, 11, 14-20, 23, and 24 are allowed as being dependent upon, and thus incorporating therein, the allowable subject matter of the respective parent claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
